Google warning received due to no 404 pages
Inviato da daviddmf - 19/02/2013 01:28

_____

Hello I have been using your ReDj component for several months and today received an unexpected email from Google webmaster tools:

Increase in not found errors

Google detected a significant increase in the number of URLs that return a 404 (Page Not Found) error. Investigating these errors and fixing them where appropriate ensures that Google can successfully crawl your site's pages.

I checked and since November last year Google has registered 2000 soft 404 errors and 1000 not found errors.

The details for the above were specified as: Target url does not exist and your server is not returning a 404 response code.

Your server is redirecting requests for a non existing page instead of returning a 404 error message this creates a poor experience for searchers and search engines.

Can you help please is this your component which I have poorly configured and if so an you explain how to optimise it.

Thank you

Dave

==

Re: Google warning received due to no 404 pages
Inviato da admin - 19/02/2013 14:47

_____

Yes,

but I need to check your Google panel, and probably also your ReDJ rules. If you send me an email at info(at)sistemistica.it I can tell you my Google account, so you can add me as temporary viewer.

2 / 2

Kind regards,

Luigi

==